AGING, SOCIETY, AND THE LIFE COURSE, FOURTH EDITION

Leslie A. Morgan & Suzanne R. Kunkel

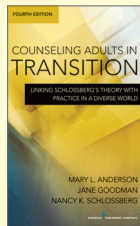

Mar 2011 376pp
978-0-8261-1937-7
Hardback £81.50 / €90.00

A comprehensive textbook that details the impact of societal forces on the ageing process. It focuses on the diversity of the older population, examining it from micro/macro perspectives in order to understand ageing and the life course as social phenomena. This latest edition examines significant changes in the field of social gerontology, such as the paradigms of ageing and the life course, the baby boomer cohorts as they approach retirement and later life, the growing interest in global ageing, and civic engagement.

COUNSELING ADULTS IN TRANSITION

Linking Schlossberg's Theory With Practice in a Diverse World, Fourth Edition

Mary Anderson, Jane Goodman & Nancy Schlossberg

Aug 2011 344pp
978-0-8261-0635-3
Paperback £58.95 / €65.00

The only book explicitly designed to address counselling with adults who are coping with individual, relationship, and work transitions, it integrates the basic tenets of adult development with therapeutic practice. It is based on Schlossberg's theory of transitions, a new process and content model that offers effective techniques for helping adults to understand and successfully navigate normal life transitions.

UNIVERSAL DESIGN AS A REHABILITATION STRATEGY

Design for the Ages

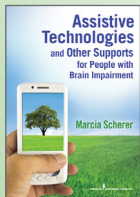

Jon A. Sanford

Mar 2012 248pp
978-0-8261-2552-1
Hardback £49.95 / €55.00

A key source for a variety of professionals – from nurses to interior designers to architects – this book covers the significance and impact of universal design as a change agent for social and health movements. It also emphasizes that the use of universal design can promote performance and participation for the ageing population. In this unique resource, Sanford examines key social ecological models in the rehabilitation for ageing and disability, and sheds new light on health and disability at both the individual and population level.

ASSISTIVE TECHNOLOGIES AND OTHER SUPPORTS FOR PEOPLE WITH BRAIN IMPAIRMENT

Marcia Scherer

Jan 2012 256pp
978-0-8261-0645-2
Paperback £49.95 / €55.00

Integrating current research with the experiences of people with cognitive disabilities, this book examines how assistive and cognitive support technologies are being harnessed to provide assistance for thinking, remembering, and learning. It vividly describes real-life situations in which cognitively impaired individuals use assistive supports and the advantages and limitations these individuals perceive from their use. It provides information on how cognitively impaired individuals and their families and caregivers can select the most appropriate technologies from a wide array of accommodations and resources, including individualized protocols of different forms of support to facilitate optimal functioning.

COGNITIVE BEHAVIOR THERAPY WITH OLDER ADULTS

Innovations Across Care Settings

Kristen H. Sorocco & Sean Lauderdale

Mar 2011 496pp
978-0-8261-0619-3 Paperback £58.95 / €65.00

A one-stop resource for core discipline practitioners who provide mental health services to the geriatric population, this book presents strategies for integrating cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) skills and therapies into various healthcare settings for ageing patients. It is divided into two key parts: CBT for common mental health problems for older adults and innovations across settings in which older adults are present. Evidence-based and provider-friendly, it emphasizes adapting CBT specifically for the ageing population and its specific needs.

Making Meaningful Places in Old Age

Edited by Graham D. Rowles & Miriam Bernard

May 2012 296pp
978-0-8261-0813-5 Paperback £58.95 / €65.00

The environments in which people live out their later lives have a strong impact on their identity and opportunities for nourishing social interactions. This book synthesizes contemporary research on residential environments and public spaces that enhance well being, and provides practical recommendations for the design of such beneficial community environments that encompass private and public spaces. It bridges the worlds of research and practice by translating the expanding body of environmental gerontology research into applied contexts. Emphasis is on how to design residential spaces that facilitate the development of a sense of place or home, and investigation into the kinds of lifestyles such spaces foster and support.

EVIDENCE-BASED GERIATRIC NURSING PROTOCOLS FOR BEST PRACTICE, FOURTH EDITION

Edited by Marie Boltz et al

Jan 2011 744pp
978-0-8261-7128-3 Hardback £72.50 / €80.00

Completely updated to provide the most current, evidence-based protocols for care of common clinical conditions and issues in elderly patients. It contains new chapters on function-focused care, catheter-associated urinary tract infections, mistreatment detection, acute care models, and transitional care, and it illustrates application of clinical protocols to real-life practice through case studies and discussion.

GERIOPERATIVE NURSING CARE Principles and Practices of Surgical Care for the Older Adult

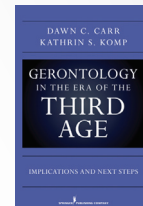

Raelene V. Shippee-Rice, Susan Fetzer & Jennifer V. Long

Dec 2011 640pp
978-0-8261-0470-0 Hardback £76.95 / €85.00

This timely book introduces geriooperative care, a new model of surgical care for the elderly designed to improve surgical outcomes and prevent complications through a focus on communication and relationship-centred care. It is the only book to specifically address the care of older adults undergoing surgery, providing practitioners with critical, practical, and theoretical information from the initial decision to have surgery through the first follow-up visit post-discharge.

GERONTOLOGY IN THE ERA OF THE THIRD AGE

Implications and Next Steps

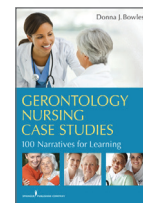

Dawn C. Carr & Kathrin S. Komp

Feb 2011 288pp
978-0-8261-0596-7 Hardback £67.95 / €75.00

A comprehensive discussion about how the emergence of the third age has changed the way we think about and examine traditional frameworks regarding ageing issues and the life course. It introduces the discussion of the unique challenges and opportunities that older adults face while moving through this early phase of later life, proposing new frameworks, concepts, and methods to re-examine later life in the context of the era of the third age.

GERONTOLOGY NURSING CASE STUDIES

100 Narratives for Learning

Edited by Donna J. Bowles

Feb 2011 248pp
978-0-8261-0833-3
Paperback £35.50 / €39.00

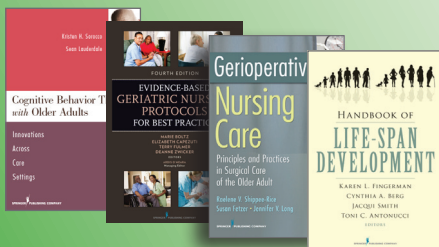

At the heart of this unique volume are 100 case studies of older adults that address nearly every issue – physical, mental, and psychosocial – that may confront health care providers who work with the ageing population. These case studies, culled from contributors with several centuries' worth of combined nursing expertise, are designed to guide nursing students in the development of interventions that encompass both complementary and alternative health strategies. Exercises interspersed throughout each case study are designed to foster critical thinking and decision-making skills.

HANDBOOK OF LIFE-SPAN DEVELOPMENT

Edited by Karen L. Fingerman et al

Jan 2011 650pp
978-0-8261-1079-4 Hardback £115.00 / €125.00

Addresses, through a multidisciplinary perspective, the biological, cognitive, and psychological development that occurs from infancy through old age, and how the socio-cultural and institutional factors interface with these changes. Edited by leading research scholars in the field of life-span development, it also includes contributions of specialists in behavioural genetics, socioemotional selectivity theory, neuroscience, ecological models, and more.

INTRODUCTION TO AGING

A Positive, Interdisciplinary Approach

Judith Sugar et al

May 2012 296pp
978-0-8261-0880-7 Paperback £58.95 / €65.00

This research-based, yet highly engaging, textbook ushers in a new paradigm of ageing – that of ageing as a positive stage of life. It offers an interdisciplinary perspective on the broad range of topics that comprise gerontology, using theoretical and research-based information while providing engrossing narratives and real examples of new trends, surprising findings, and controversial topics. It dispels many of the myths about ageing through careful reporting of facts, issues, and trends.

NEUROPSYCHOLOGY OF CORTICAL DEMENTIAS

Edited by Chad Noggle et al

Apr 2012 480pp
978-0-8261-0726-8
Hardback £115.00 / €125.00

Contemporary Neuropsychology Series

Addresses in depth the neuropsychological impact and features of the full range of cortical dementias. It examines the differential neuropathological and pathophysiological bases of these dementias and emphasizes their behavioural and cognitive aspects in assessment, diagnoses, and treatment. It also presents the most advanced techniques and strategies for disease-specific treatment. Featuring contributions from such diverse disciplines as neuropsychology, neurology, psychiatry, clinical psychology, pathology, and social work, it provides a broad interdisciplinary perspective for practising clinical neuropsychologists, neurologists, psychiatrists, gerontologists, and psychologists who work with patients suffering from dementia.

NURSING HOME ADMINISTRATION, SIXTH EDITION

James E. Allen

Feb 2011 624pp
978-0-8261-0704-6
Paperback £86.50 / €95.00

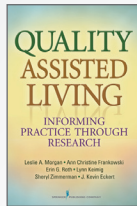

This sixth edition contains essential information to prepare an individual for licensure and employment as a nursing home administrator. It addresses all regulatory pieces of information to provide readers with an overview of the entire process of managing a nursing facility, and serves as a roadmap for studying and understanding all the various requirements – management, human resources, finance and business, and patient care.

QUALITY ASSISTED LIVING Informing Practice through Research

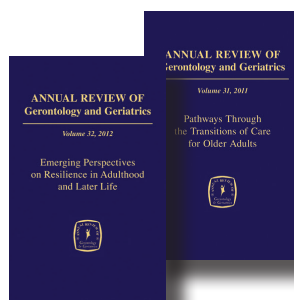

Leslie A. Morgan et al

Jun 2011 264pp
978-0-8261-3034-1
Paperback £45.50 / €50.00

Whereas most books focus on quality of care, this is the only volume to explicitly delve into the lives of those who inhabit assisted living facilities, seeking to understand and evaluate their perceived ideas of what constitutes quality of life. It addresses the complexities underlying seemingly clear cut issues and provides concrete suggestions for reframing problems in order to find better solutions. Plentiful stories and quotations are used to identify those elements of assisted living that are most conducive to a satisfying quality of life, and address how this research has led to a consideration of quality as a process rather than as a single condition.
